A CHRONICLE OF EVENTS WITH SIDE LIGHTS ON THE MEN AND WOMEN WHO MAKE UP WASHINGTON'S COMPLEX AND INTERESTING SOCIAL LIFE

THE President and Mrs. Harding will attend the marriage of Miss Frances Hoar and Reginald S. Foster, which will be solemnized today at 4:30 o'clock in St. John's Church and will be present also at the reception at Grasslands, which is to follow the ceremony. The Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge, the Secretary of State and Mrs. Hughes, other cabinet members and the heads of many of the diplomatic missions, with the ladies of their families, will also be included in the distinguished company.

Miss Hoar is the daughter of Mrs. Frederick H. Gillett, wife of the Speaker of the House, and of the late Rockwood Hoar, who represented a Massachusetts district in Congress for many years. Her grandfather, the late Senator Hoar, was one of the most distinguished men in the Senate a generation ago. Mr. Foster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. W. Foster, of Charles River village, Mass., and is a member of a family which is well known throughout New England.

The Rt. Rev. Alfred Harding, Bishop of Washington, will officiate at the wedding today and the bride will be given in marriage by Speaker Gillett. Her sister, Miss Louise Hoar, will be her maid of honor. The bride's attendants will also include Mr. Foster's sister, Miss Barbara Foster, and Miss Hilda Foster, who will be bridesmaids, and his little niece, Miss Catherine Tappan, who will serve as flower girl.

A program of organ music will be given while the ushers, ten in number, are escorting the guests to their places in the church. The list of ushers includes Leland O. Harrison and Warren Delano Robinson, of Washington; C. C. Carter, of Philadelphia; Roger W. Cutler, Charles E. Cotting, Albert W. Rice, and Robert M. Tappan, of Boston; Richard Whitney, Albert D. Farwell, and Theodore Sizer, of New York; Charles I. Foster, of Boston; brother of the bridegroom, will be his best man.

It will be a yellow wedding, the flowers used in the decorations shading from pale gold to flame and the same colors being repeated in the smart frocks of the bride's attendants. Yellow gladioli and yellow lilies will be used in the chancel in great profusion, with a graceful arrangement of palms and spreading Australian ferns; and, as they enter the chancel, the bridal party will pass beneath an arch of ferns studded with yellow blossoms. Clusters of Easter lilies will be used on the altar and tall standards to which are attached clusters of yellow lilies and gladioli will be placed between the doors at the back of the church.

THE BRIDE'S GOWN.

The bride is wearing a Worth gown of soft white georgette crepe, with a court train of cloth of silver. Her veil is of rare old lace and both veil and gown are sprayed with orange blossoms. She will wear silver hose and slippers of silver brocade, and she is carrying a sheaf of lilies of the valley and gardenias. The maid of honor's costume is a Lanvin model of yellow lace built over white tulle and made with a hop skirt. Her peach-colored tulle hat is trimmed with white French flowers shading from peach color to flame, and she is wearing a chic flowing veil of yellow lace. Her colonial bouquet, in its lace paper holder, is made up of blossoms shading from pale yellow to flame color. The bridesmaids' gowns are of cream lace over yellow chiffon, and will be worn with hats of flame-colored straw wreathed with nasturtiums, the yellow and flame color being repeated in the lilies, snapdragons, and sweet peas of their arm bouquets.

The ushers will escort President and Mrs. Harding, and the Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge to their places in the front pew, after which Mrs. Gillett will take her place on the side of the aisle and the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. W. Foster, on the other. His sisters, Mrs. Robert M. Tappan of Claybrook Farm, near Boston, and Mrs. Albert Farwell of Cedarhurst, L. I., are also here for the wedding, and so is Mrs. Theodore Sizer, also of Cedarhurst. Mr. Tappan, Mr. Farwell and Mr. Sizer are serving as ushers.

Mrs. Harding is wearing a handsome gown of creamy ecru lace, which is mounted on black chiffon and worn over an underdress of peach-colored chiffon. With this she wears a becoming hat of black tulle with paradise plumes placed at the back of the crown. Mrs. Coolidge's gown is of gray canton crepe, with eyelet embroidery banding the edges of the sleeves and repeated on the bodice. Her hat of gray horsehair braid is wreathed with gray feathers shading to orchid.

At Grasslands, where the reception is to be held, the yellow and flame color scheme is repeated and the drawing rooms are charmingly decorated.

Following the reception Mr. Foster and his bride will leave for a wedding trip, but their future plans have not yet been disclosed. Mr. Foster was until recently attached to the American High Commission in Berlin and it was while he was traveling abroad that he met Miss Hoar.

Last evening Speaker and Mrs. Gillett entertained informally at dinner at the Chevy Chase Club for members of the House of Representatives and the guests from other cities. Many parties were given for the bride before her wedding, one of the most interesting being the dinner-dance on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Delano Robinson, who were hosts.

CLUB RECEPTION.

The President and Mrs. Harding will be guests of honor at the reception which the Metropolitan Club is giving tonight. Only members and their immediate families will be present, as the reception is in the nature of a personal compliment from the club to its most distinguished member—Mr. Harding having belonged to the club for some years, before he became President. Woodbury Blair, president of the club, and the vice president, Admiral Richard Wright, will greet the guests. An orchestra will play through the evening, and refreshments will be served in the main dining room.

The President and Mrs. Harding had an informal luncheon at the White House today for a group of old friends from Marion, who motored to Washington. Yesterday afternoon the President gave audience to Dr. Henrique, former President of Santo Domingo, who was accompanied to the White House by Ira Bennett, of Washington.

Mrs. Harding, who was at home to a number of guests yesterday afternoon, is also expected to attend the sale of articles made by the patients of St. Elizabeth's, which is being held at the chapter house of the District of Columbia Red Cross, 16 Jackson place. Miss Laura Harlan accompanied Mrs. Harding, and both ladies displayed much interest in the hand-woven baskets and other articles on sale.

Mrs. Edwin Denby, with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Denby, was also among those present at the exhibit and sale, which opened June 8, and will continue through tomorrow.

The Spanish Ambassador and Mme. Riano entertained a company of ten at dinner last evening at the embassy. A number of additional guests were invited later for dancing.

The ambassador of Great Britain, Sir Auckland Geddes, will attend the commencement exercises at Elmira College and will stop in Cleveland a few days before returning to Washington on Saturday. The ambassador accompanied Mrs. Harding, and their children to Dark Harbor, Me., and has been enjoying a brief rest there.

The Secretary of War, John M. Weeks, received the honorary degree of doctor of laws yesterday from Rutgers College. The degree was conferred on him at the 155 annual commencement of the institution.

The minister of China, Dr. Alfred Sze, gave an informal luncheon today at the legation in honor of Dr. Y. P. Tsai, chancellor of the University of Peking, who is in Washington making a study of the Government department and local educational institutions.

There will be a reception at the legation this afternoon, at which Chinese students will have an opportunity to meet the distinguished visitor. Dr. Tsai will leave Washington tonight for Ithaca, where he will attend the commencement exercises at Cornell University.

GOLDEN WEDDING RECEPTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carroll Glover will be hosts at a reception this afternoon, entertaining in honor of Mrs. Glover's brother-in-law and sister, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Theodore F. Jewell, who are today celebrating their golden wedding anniversary. Mrs. Jewell was Miss Elizabeth Lindsay Poor, and Mrs. Glover was Miss Annie C. Poor.

The reception this afternoon will be held in the garden at Westover, Mr. and Mrs. Glover's country home on the outskirts of Washington, which is now at the height of its early summer bloom. Mr. and Mrs. Glover expect to leave Washington early in July for York Harbor, Me., where they have a cottage and where they have been going every summer for many years.

BUTLERS ENTERTAIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Butler will be hosts at a reception today at their home in I street, entertaining in compliment to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Franklin Butler, whose marriage took place in Virginia on June 11, and who are their guests for a few days en route to Montevue Farm, in Maine, where they will pass the summer. Mr. Butler, one of the two sons of the host and hostess, is well known in Washington, although a resident of York.
